Nazis Use Terror Campaign To Stir Germans To Final Stand

LONDON, March 30.—Nazi leaders appeared today to be resorting to a campaign of stark terror in an effort to hold the German people in line during the nation's greatest peril.

Nazi propagandists warned the Germans they would be no better than slaves if the Allies are victorious, and they threatened with dire punishment all who failed to fight to the end or cooperated with Allied authorities in occupied territory.

Despite this, reports from many sources indicated mounting chaos and despair within the Reich. Stories relayed through neutral capitals told of disorders and mutinies, attempts on the lives of top Nazis and large scale desertions from the army.

Nazi leaders themselves were reported putting the final touches on preparations for a withdrawal into the fastnesses of the Bavarian Alps, and Swiss advisers said some already had fled to the German island of Mainau in Lake Constance.

The Berlin correspondent for the Bern newspaper Der Bund wrote that the German people "certainly have no cause for great hopes."

Lt. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, the German high command's military commander, asked in a broadcast: "Is there any sense in continuing the fight?" And then answered himself: "Our enemy wants to annihilate the entire nation and himself gives the answer—We must fight to the last."

The Berlin radio boasted that "German freedom fighters" had slain Franz Oppenhef, Allied-appointed mayor of occupied Aachen, and said another "traitor" and his whole family were killed in an explosion at Mautzenich.

The Germans said yesterday Oppenhef had been convicted by "the national court for the maintenance of German honor and immediately sentenced to death."

The Nazi Transoceanic propaganda agency said the "execution" at Mautzenich did away with a school teacher accused of being a "traitor German mayor serving under the Allied military government."

Attacks on the lives of two Nazi leaders were reported by the Luxembourg radio, quoting "reliable Swiss sources."

SS Leader Dr. Ernst Kaltenbrunner, No. 2 Nazi under Heinrich Himmler, was reported wounded seriously during anti-Nazi clashes at Vienna.

Baldur von Schirach, former Hitler youth chief and Nazi leader at Vienna, was said to have had a narrow escape from assassination in the Austrian capital.

Moscow Says Soviet Soldiers Have Thrust Over Austrian Frontier

LONDON, March 30.—Russian troops have thrust over the Austrian frontier, Moscow dispatches said today, and Marshal Stalin announced a 31-mile advance north of the Danube in a twin thrust upon Vienna.

The German high command announced the fall of Danzig, where the first shots of the war were fired in 1939.

While Marshal Feodor Tolbukhin's tanks penetrated the hills inside Austria, threatening to lay siege to Vienna, Stalin announced that Marshal Rodio N. Malinovsky's forces north of the Danube had broken across the Nitra river, capturing Komarno, Ersekujvar (Novy-Zamky), Surany, Komjaty, Verebely (Vrable) and Poerful.

The advance brought the Russians up to or across the Nitra on a 27-mile front to within 40 miles of Bratislava.

U. S. Advance Too Fast For Headquarters

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, March 30.—The American First and Ninth armies drove powerfully forward today toward a junction northeast of the Ruhr that would seal off Germany's greatest and last large arsenal and up to 40,000 enemy troops among its ravaged factories.

Security blackouts hid new advances.

The First army shot forward so fast its spearheads lost contact with headquarters. The Germans said one armored column had reached Bad Wundingen, 20 miles southwest of the great rail center of Kassel, 170 miles from Berlin.

The Ninth army broke loose overnight in a race along the northern rim of the Ruhr, by-passing most of the great industrial cities of the valley.

The British Second army appeared to be veering northward toward the great ports of Hamburg, Bremen and Wilhelmshaven. The whole onsurge on the 21st army group front in the north was in high gear from the Muenster plain to the Odenwald. Infantry alone tramped 18 miles forward in a day, and tanks still were running unchecked along clear roads.

On every sector, Supreme headquarters said officially that advances were going well.

In 48 hours, more than 60,000 Germans have surrendered. The prized old cities of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Mannheim and Heidelberg have fallen with little opposition. Hundreds of lesser places have fallen.

Actual positions of vanguards of the American First, Ninth and Third armies were obscured by the news blackout which also covered the British Second and Canadian First armies. The Canadians, however, cleared the Rhine fortress town of Emmerich save for snipers.

The First army's armored drive curling around the east end of the Ruhr—the tanks clanked 55 miles over open roads from dawn to dusk yesterday—was the fastest of the war.

At Supreme headquarters, officers said the British drive north of the Ruhr had penetrated 40 miles beyond the Rhine.

Air forces attacked strongpoints south of Muenster, and the three north German ports toward which the British were aimed. Pilots said roads east of the Westphalian capital were jammed with troops and refugees streaming in the direction of Berlin.

The wrecking of small bridges by the Germans was causing the Ninth army more trouble than enemy soldiers.

Of the 37,000 prisoners captured yesterday—the biggest bag on a single day in the west—were many high German officers. Some said dejectedly it was only a matter of days until the war in Europe would be over.

Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' powerful forces were driving past the headwaters of the Ruhr toward a junction with the 21st army group, swinging across Westphalia on the open roads of North Germany.

The last definitely pinpointed position reached by the First army in the push northward was 10 miles south of Paderborn. Here the First was 65 miles from the British and 136 miles from Berlin. Both distances have been reduced appreciably in intervening hours.

The First army column which the enemy said was approaching Kassel was moving in a different direction and apparently slower than the tanks curving around the Ruhr.

Ninth Army Knocks Out Crack German Unit

At one position, the British on the northern lip of the Ruhr were 30 miles inland from the Rhine "to and beyond Dorsten," a field dispatch said. Great Ruhr cities such as Essen, Gelsenkirchen, Mulheim, Oberhausen, Bochum and Recklinghausen had been bypassed.

That point—announced nearly 24 hours ago—the British were 13 miles from Dortmund and 23 from Hamm, eastern exit for the Ruhr valley.

The U. S. Ninth army, driving lines in the Ruhr after knocking the first German 116th tank division off its feet in the Zwickel area north of Gladbeck. The Ninth has captured 10,000 prisoners since crossing the Rhine.

This seemed to be the pattern of the west front onslaught.

British forces were driving to seal off North German ports and moving with the Ninth army toward a meeting with the First army to box off the Ruhr.

The Third army was gouging into the middle of Germany toward Russian lines.

The Seventh army was moving into position to slice off mountainous southern Germany where Nazi war criminals might try to hole up.

Disintegration accelerated in German ranks. Of the Nazis surrendering yesterday, 24,400 were in the Third army, 11,266 in the First and 1,000 to the British.

Two great German cities—Frankfurt-on-the-Main and Mannheim—fell.

Gen. Eisenhower has said loss of the Ruhr would leave Germany incapable of continuing organized resistance long. The greatest mass of German troops left in western Europe was being swiftly encircled in the trap fashioned by the First army and the 21st Army group on the north.

2 AKRON DOCTORS FACE DRUG COUNTS

AKRON, March 30.—Two Akron physicians pleaded innocent today when arraigned on federal charges of illegal narcotics sales and were released under $1,500 bond each.

Miners, Operators To Attend Hearing

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The War Labor board today called deadlocked soft coal operators and miners to a hearing tomorrow morning to determine whether their contract can be extended until a new one is reached.

The present contract expires at midnight tomorrow and government seizure of the mines was seen possible if the operators and John L. Lewis fail to agree on a new pact or extension of the present one.

"The parties will be called on to show cause in accordance with the board's practice in such cases why the terms and conditions of the existing contract should not be extended, pending final action on the issues in dispute, and why an effective date for wage adjustments that may be finally determined upon should not be fixed," WLB Chairman George W. Taylor telegraphed the operators and the miners.

Corporal Loutzenhiser, a veteran of a year and three months' service in the thick of battle in the Pacific area, was killed on two Jima while serving with the 4th Marine division. He had participated in the invasions of Namur, Roi, Kwajalein, Tinian and Saipan, besides two.

A graduate of Salem High school, he had lived here all his life and enlisted in the Marines in September, 1942. He trained at Parris Island, S. C., and Camp Pendleton, Calif., before being sent overseas in December, 1943.

He was employed at the E. W. Bliss Co. plant as an apprentice machinist, where he worked with his father, a machinist.

Surviving, besides his parents, are

FIRING OF BIG GUNS DAMAGES MONUMENT

PUT-IN-BAY, March 30.—Although thousands of miles from the war's battlefields, the famed Perry monument commemorating the American victory over a British squadron in the War of 1812's battle of Lake Erie, apparently is becoming a war casualty.

Vibrations from incessant proof-firing of big guns at the Army's Erie Proving grounds, some 14 miles to the southwest, have damaged homes on South Bass island and cracks are appearing in the 352-foot monument, second tallest in the world. Only the Washington monument in the nation's capital is taller.

Type Of Clothing Needed For War Relief

Type of clothing needed for Salem's participation in the United National Clothing Collection, which starts Monday and continues through April, was outlined today by Curtis H. Vaughn, chairman of the local committee.

The committee is comprised of representatives of the four local service clubs. The collection is a united effort on the part of UNRRA and voluntary war relief agencies in the United States to obtain good used clothing for free distribution to destitute men, women and children in war-devastated countries.

No house-to-house campaign will be conducted, but receiving stations are being set up and there will be announced soon.

What is needed is good, substantial used clothing, for both winter and summer wear. Although clothing need not be in good repair, it must be useful to the people who will receive it.

Underclothing and all types of cotton garments should be washed before they are donated, but need not be ironed. Evening dresses, tuxedos and dress suits cannot be used.

Most urgently needed are the following:

Infants' Garments—All types are in urgent demand, particularly knit goods.

Men's and Boys' Garments—Overcoats, topcoats, suits, coats, jackets, shirts, all types of work clothes including overalls, coveralls, etc., sweaters, underwear, robes, pajamas, knitted gloves.

Women's and Girls' Garments—Coats, jackets, skirts, sweaters, shawls, dresses, underwear, aprons, jumpers, slacks, robes, nightwear, knitted gloves.

Caps and Knitted Headwear—Serviceable heavy duty caps and knitted headgear (such as stocking caps) are needed. (Women's hats and derbies cannot be used).

Bedding—Blankets, afghans, sheets, pillow cases, quilts are needed if in serviceable condition.

Shoes—Either oxfords or high shoes of durable type with low or medium heels. Shoes with high heels, open toes or backs, evening slippers and novelty types cannot be used. All shoes donated should be mated and tied securely into pairs.

Useable Remnants, Piece Goods—Cut or uncut materials (cottons, rayon, woolsens, etc.). One yard or more in length—but not rags or badly damaged, dirty or worn-out fabrics.

The War Today..

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

MANY OF THE home-front folk are laying plans for demonstrations—religious services, patriotic rallies, parades, and parties—to mark the day of German capitulation.

It certainly will be an occasion for thanksgiving and rejoicing. However, it's scarcely a moment for all-out celebration—or so it seems to me—but rather a time for re-dedicating ourselves to the completion of an unfinished task.

One wonders just what significance that great day will have for the average citizen. When we administer the coup de grace to Hitler, shall we be writing off "the war"? Or will that be just another major victory on the road to wars yet? That mighty important question should be settled now.

The answer is clear enough when we stop to analyze the position. The final defeat of Hitler isn't the end of "the war." It's the end of "a" war. We still have to smash the Japanese empire which stands for much the same evils that Germany stands for—militarism and barbaric aggression for conquest.

It may be that Nippon is a greater menace to humanity than Germany. For the Japanese have avowed their intention of consolidating the whole of Asia into one vast bloc. Tokyo would rule that the Western world in a universal war—the horror of the Oriental races pitted against those of the Occident. Nothing should be written off as impossible after the present war of unrestrained Axis savagery.

As soon as the European conflict is finished America must throw her full military weight into the war with Japan. We must transport great forces of troops to the Orient. We must move endless columns of supplies across the Pacific. We must send a steady stream of equipment.

This all means that the home front must continue to give of its best.

MULLINS RE-ELECT PRESENT OFFICERS

The advance brought the Russians up to or across the Nitra on a 27-mile front to within 48 miles of Bratislava.

Graz, a hub on the chief communications remaining open between Austria and the Nazi forces in Slovenia and Croatia in Yugoslavia, was outflanked by spearheads which had driven from Szombathely, 102 miles north of Zagreb, capital of puppet Croatia, and 130 miles from the Italian frontier.

A city of 238,000, Danzig had been under close siege since March 23, when the Third White Russian army of Marshal Vasilevsky drove to Zoppot in the Bay of Danzig, and separated the city from its rival Polish port of Gdynia, since fallen to the Russians. The Russians encircled Gdynia and Danzig on March 12, when they reached the bay north of Gdynia.

SS troops fought bitterly on the many sections of the city cut off by the waterways of the Vistula estuary. Danzig is predominantly German in population. Hitler demanded that its status as a free city be cancelled and its territory be annexed to the Reich along with a "corridor" across the Polish corridor. This was the immediate cause of the conflict which broke out on Sept. 1, 1939.

In reaching Danzig the Russians avenged the 202 gallant Poles who in September, 1939, stirred the world with their epic seven-day stand on the Westerplatte, the little peninsula in Danzig harbor which held a small Polish munitions dump.

Corp. Loutzenhiser, a veteran of a year and three months' service in the thick of battle in the Pacific area, was killed on Iwo Jima while serving with the 4th Marine division. He had participated in the invasions of Namur, Roi, Kwajalein, Tinian and Saipan, besides Iwo.

Wounded on Saipan July 8, 1944, Corp. Loutzenhiser had received the Purple Heart medal. His first invasion action in the Pacific was on Namur.

A graduate of Salem High school, he had lived here all his life and enlisted in the Marines in September, 1942. He trained at Parris Island, S. C., and Camp Pendleton, Calif., before being sent overseas in December, 1943.

He was employed at the E. W. Bliss Co. plant as an apprentice machinist, where he worked with his father, a machinist.

Surviving, besides his parents, are Turn to CASUALTIES, Page 8

FIRING OF BIG GUNS DAMAGES MONUMENT

PUT-IN-BAY, March 30.—Although thousands of miles from the war's battlefields, the famed Perry monument commemorating the American victory over a British squadron in the War of 1812's battle of Lake Erie, apparently is becoming a war casualty.

Vibrations from incessant proof-firing of big guns at the Army's Erie Proving grounds, some 14 miles to the southwest, have damaged homes on South Bass Island and cracks are appearing in the 352-foot monument, second tallest in the world. Only the Washington monument in the nation's capital is taller.

U. S. Advance Too Fast For Headquarters

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, March 30.—The American First and Ninth armies drove powerfully forward today toward a junction northeast of the Ruhr that would seal off Germany's greatest and last large arsenal and up to 40,000 enemy troops among its ravaged factories.

Security blackouts hid new advances. The First army shot forward so fast its spearheads lost contact with headquarters. The Germans said one armored column had reached Bad Windungen, 20 miles southwest of the great rail center of Kassel, 170 miles from Berlin.

The Ninth army broke loose overnight in a race along the northern rim of the Ruhr, by-passing most of the great industrial cities of the valley.

The British Second army appeared to be veering northwestward toward the great ports of Hamburg, Bremen and Wilhelmshaven. The whole onrush on the 21st army group front in the north was in high gear from the Muenster plain to the Odenwald. Infantry alone tramped 18 miles forward in a day, and tanks still were running unchecked along clear roads.

On every sector, Supreme headquarters said officially that advances were going well. In 48 hours, more than 60,000 Germans have surrendered. The prized old cities of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Mannheim and Heidelberg have fallen with little opposition. Hundreds of lesser places have fallen.

Actual positions of vanguards of the American First, Ninth and Third armies were obscured by the news blackout which also covered the British Second and Canadian First armies. The Canadians, however, cleared the Rhine fortress town of Emmerich save for snipers.

The First army's armored drive curling around the east end of the Ruhr—the tanks clanked 55 miles over open roads from dawn to dusk yesterday—was the fastest of the war.

37,000 Prisoners in One Day Is Record

At Supreme headquarters, officers said the British drive north of the Ruhr had penetrated 40 miles beyond the Rhine.

Air forces attacked strongpoints south of Muenster, and the three north German ports toward which the British were aimed. Pilots said roads east of the Westphalian capital were jammed with troops and refugees streaming in the direction of Berlin.

The wrecking of small bridges by the Germans was causing the Ninth army more trouble than enemy soldiers. Of the 37,000 prisoners captured yesterday—the biggest bag on a single day in the west—were many high German officers. Some said dejectedly it was only a matter of days until the war in Europe would be over.

Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' powerful forces were driving past the headwaters of the Ruhr toward a junction with the 21st army group, swinging across Westphalia on the open roads of North Germany.

The last definitely pinpointed position reached by the First army in the push northward was 10 miles south of Paderborn. Here the First was 65 miles from the British and 186 miles from Berlin. Both distances have been reduced appreciably in intervening hours.

The First army column which the enemy said was approaching Kassel was moving in a different direction and apparently slower than the tanks curving around the Ruhr.

Ninth Army Knocks Out Crack German Unit

At one position, the British on the northern lip of the Ruhr were 30 miles inland from the Rhine "to and beyond Dorsten," a field dispatch said. Great Ruhr cities such as Essen, Gelsenkirchen, Muelheim, Oberhausen, Bochum and Recklinghausen had been bypassed.

That point—announced nearly 24 hours ago—the British were 13 miles from Dortmund and 23 from Hamm, eastern exit for the Ruhr valley.

The U. S. Ninth army, driving lines in the Ruhr after knocking the first rate German 116th tank division off its feet in the Zwickel area north of Gladbeck. The Ninth has captured 10,000 prisoners since crossing the Rhine.

This seemed to be the pattern of the west front onslaught: British forces were driving to seal off North German ports and moving with the Ninth army toward a meeting with the First army to box off the Ruhr.

The Third army was gouging into the middle of Germany toward Russian lines. The Seventh army was moving into position to slice off mountainous southern Germany where Nazi war criminals might try to hole up.

2 AKRON DOCTORS FACE DRUG COUNTS

AKRON, March 30.—Two Akron physicians conceded innocent today when arraigned on federal charges of illegal narcotics sales and were released under $1,500 bond each.

The doctors and five other persons were arrested on charges of participating in transfer of narcotics "valued at $100,000" to an estimated 150 addicts, said Ralph M. Oyler, of Detroit, district supervisor of the Federal Narcotics bureau.

Oyler identified the accused physicians as Drs. Roy Haskell, 55, and Erich Otten, 42.

It's Tough, But It Works

Two of the healthiest signs of international give-and-take to come out of United Nations collaboration are the exchanges of criticism between the British and United States press and the Russian and United States press.

Contrary to those who view with alarm every sharp word that appears in print and call criticism a threat to international amity, there can be no such thing as international friendship without the right to speak frankly. There never has been any hesitation in the United States to discuss Russia. It is only among the nice Nelligs that Britain is spared. Certainly, Russia has never been restrained by any sense of delicacy about representing or misrepresenting the United States any way its government decreed. The British, of course, are not strongly inclined at the moment to bite the hand that is feeding them, but they are too proud to swallow what gags them.

So we have had the happy incident of the British press lacing out against what seemed to be some of the least sufferable American attitudes. Currently, there is discussion about barbed comments appearing in the Russian press—barbed, that is, to stick into our national ego where the pain will be greatest. This may not be good manners. To the extent that some of it is government-inspired propaganda, it may not be good judgment. But under the timeless rule of give-and-take, it may help to clear the air. Criticism is tough, but most of the time it works better than nursing grievances in silence.

Comparing Two Wars

As the result of the greatest concentration of manpower and material ever made, Germany's defenses are collapsing on its western and eastern frontiers. In some places, artillery was massed hub to hub to achieve a break-through. Millions of men and hundreds of thousands of armored and unarmored vehicles are involved, with tens of thousands of airplanes overhead—the greatest land assault in history.

In the war against Japan, meanwhile, the greatest naval assault in history obviously is about to close in on the last island strongholds south of the main Japanese islands. As the result of the largest concentration of naval power ever made, Japan's fighting fleet and its air cover have been forced back step by step since 1942 from the shores of Australia and the waters off the coast of North America to home waters, where United States warships challenge them to a showdown. Japanese cities are under United States air power. It is revealed by Ernie Pyle that on at least one occasion a United States ship successfully went into the outer bay off Tokyo to pick up a stranded aviator after an assault on the Japanese capital by carrier-based planes.

German's position is obviously desperate; Japan's isn't. But the Japanese no doubt share a secret with the admirals of the United States Navy—the secret that they are defeated at the instant a naval blockade can be closed on their islands. From where the Japanese sit and from where the United States Navy dares to operate, it is beginning to be obvious that Japan's desperation might be, all things considered, no less than Germany's.

Some Differences of Opinion

A minor but significant thing has happened in a Senate sub-committee hearing on a Navy department plan to create a government-controlled monopoly of international communications service.

This plan is obviously of special interest to newspapers and the radio and to their millions of readers and listeners, because it entails the control of all news from abroad, as well as all news sent abroad. For this reason, newspapers and the radio have been particularly interested in a full hearing, with all views fully expressed.

But to date the most damaging testimony against the proposal has come not from newspaper and radio spokesmen, but spokesmen for government departments, who were called on to testify first. A spokesman for the War department, Maj. Gen. Harry C. Ingles, disagreed with the Navy plan on many points. The chairman of the Federal Communications commission, Paul Porter, called the plan unworkable. A deputy administrator of Civil Aeronautics administration said his agency was not in agreement. A spokesman for the State department, which has a special interest in international communications, revealed that his department was not prepared to support the Navy plan.

All of which has raised higher than ever the question of just who is supporting the plan. Whoever or whatever it is seems to have had serious trouble rounding up converts in Washington.

A Memorable Year

There will be no trouble remembering 1945. It began with the snow that lasted and lasted. It was the year the Germans gave up the watch on the Rhine. There were consequential floods in the Ohio valley. Mrs. Roosevelt got a mink coat. The Japanese learned that it is foolish for people who live in paper houses to start wars. Henry Wallace landed a job. Congress swallowed hard and said it would be all right if the national debt went to 300 billion dollars. Cigarettes were kept under the counter. Frank Sinatra was still 4-F. We had trouble with the coal supply. And no one got particularly excited about moving grass before the end of March because to all intents and appearances 1945 was the year that skipped April as not being worth paying any attention to anyway.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, March 31

ALTHOUGH this may be a particularly lively and exciting day yet according to lunar transits, there should be much discretion, with wise consideration of all factors, even though clever and quick action will be decisive in grasping gainful openings. And while there may be benefits from secret agreements or private sources, yet vigilance in these is essential. Shun quarrels and deception, and maintain happy and responsible public contacts, observing rules and regulations. Defer changes of importance.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a very lively year, with much of an enterprising and strenuous state of affairs, in which swift, decisive and positive moves win out against certain tricky, intriguing or conniving associations.

Private gain or benefits may materialize if shrewd and alert moves avert duplicity or pitfalls. Public matters likewise demand straightforwardness and integrity, lest running counters to codes there be loss and penalties. Maintain harmony, honesty and obligations in social, home and affectional relations.

A child born on this day will be active, energetic and of a positive and forceful nature, but beset by suspicion, pitfalls and duplicity, although itself frank and honest.

Unconditional Surrender

By James Thrasher

"Pure eyewash" was the way Robert Murphy, our political adviser on German affairs at General Eisenhower's headquarters, described criticism of the Allies' unconditional surrender policy. And the enemy's attitude seems to justify Mr. Murphy's brief description.

As long as the Nazis rule Germany any compromise surrender would leave the core of Nazism intact. The poison would still be there, and with it the seeds of another war. Even in the event of a revolutionary overthrow of Hitler, the same policy would certainly be necessary. And if such a revolution were genuine, it probably would not be difficult of fulfillment.

Hitler and his circle have little hope and probably little desire for a compromise surrender. Their vain but persistent hope is for a breakdown of the alliance between the United States, Britain and Russia. In that, and not in conditional terms, would be their best hope of survival.

As Mr. Murphy pointed out, the Germans "are now witnessing the thing they understand best—superior force of arms". Anything less than the full harvest of the whirlwind they have sown might leave them unconvinced, and a remaining danger to world peace.

Regarding war rumors, keep your mouth closed and it won't be open to criticism.

Now they're saying the government released too much meat in 1944. One meat ball-up!

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Various Causes of Pain In Lower Back

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

PAIN in the lower part of the back can be produced by injury to the muscles, nerves, joints of the spine and even by emotional upsets.

One of the common causes is a condition known as protrusion of the nucleus of an intervertebral disc. These intervertebral discs are made up of cartilage between the bones of the spine. The pain in this condition usually passes into the buttock, thigh, leg and foot. The pain in the lower part of the back rarely causes as much trouble as the pain in the legs. Coughing or sneezing usually tends to make the pain worse.

As a rule, the condition develops after a fall, a jump or trying to lift some heavy object. An important sign of this condition is relief from the symptoms which may occur from time to time, only to reappear. Just why this happens is not definitely known, but it is thought that the swelling of the tissues may become less at intervals and thus the pressure on the nerves is relieved.

Another test for the conditions is made by having the patient lie on his back with his leg straight. This straightened leg can only be raised at an angle of 10 to 15 degrees when a protruded disc is present.

As a general rule, it is possible to make a diagnosis of protrusion of the nucleus of an intervertebral disc on the basis of the symptoms which occur. X-rays are helpful in some instances.

Operations Successful
Once a diagnosis is made, the treatment consists of an operation for correcting the disorder. In practically all instances, these operations can be carried out successfully.

Another cause for low back pain which passes into the legs is inflammation of the sciatic nerve or sciatic neuritis.

Just what produces these inflammations has not yet been definitely determined.

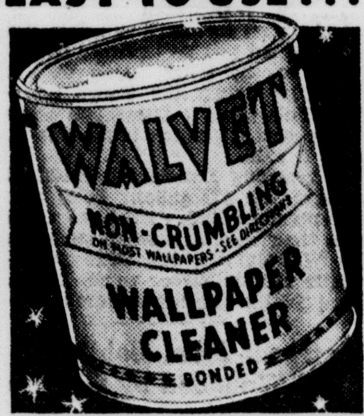

The treatment in such instances consists in the use of cold compresses over the painful areas. Heat would seem to make the pain worse. An effort should also be made to get rid of infections in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses or elsewhere in the body. B-complex vitamins, when administered in large doses, seem to have good effects in some cases.

Pain in the lower part of the back and in the legs is a most uncomfortable disorder. A careful search should be made to determine what is producing it, whereupon effective treatment may be employed.

Tomorrow, Dr. Bundesen will discuss "Sulfonamides in Prevention of Epidemics."

Dr. Bundesen will answer letters containing medical questions only through his column.

It's Tough, But It Works

Two of the healthiest signs of international give-and-take to come out of United Nations collaboration are the exchanges of criticism between the British and United States press and the Russian and United States press.

Contrary to those who view with alarm every sharp word that appears in print and call criticism a threat to international amity, there can be no such thing as international friendship without the right to speak frankly. There never has been any hesitation in the United States to discuss Russia. It is only among the nice Nelligs that Britain is spared. Certainly, Russia has never been restrained by any sense of delicacy about representing or misrepresenting the United States any way its government decreed. The British, of course, are not strongly inclined at the moment to bite the hand that is feeding them, but they are too proud to swallow what gags them.

So we have had the happy incident of the British press lacing out against what seemed to be some of the least sufferable American attitudes. Currently, there is discussion about barbed comments appearing in the Russian press—barbed, that is, to stick into our national ego where the pain will be greatest. This may not be good manners. To the extent that some of it is government-inspired propaganda, it may not be good judgment. But under the timeless rule of give-and-take, it may help to clear the air. Criticism is tough, but most of the time it works better than nursing grievances in silence.

Comparing Two Wars

As the result of the greatest concentration of manpower and material ever made, Germany's defenses are collapsing on its western and eastern frontiers. In some places, artillery was massed hub to hub to achieve a break-through. Millions of men and hundreds of thousands of armored and unarmored vehicles are involved, with tens of thousands of airplanes overhead—the greatest land assault in history.

In the war against Japan, meanwhile, the greatest naval assault in history obviously is about to close in on the last island strongholds south of the main Japanese islands. As the result of the largest concentration of naval power ever made, Japan's fighting fleet and its air cover have been forced back step by step since 1942 from the shores of Australia and the waters off the coast of North America to home waters, where United States warships challenge them to a showdown. Japanese cities are under United States air power. It is revealed by Ernie Pyle that on at least one occasion a United States ship successfully went into the outer bay off Tokyo to pick up a stranded aviator after an assault on the Japanese capital by carrier-based planes.

German's position is obviously desperate; Japan's isn't. But the Japanese no doubt share a secret with the admirals of the United States Navy—the secret that they are defeated at the instant a naval blockade can be closed on their islands. From where the Japanese sit and from where the United States Navy dares to operate, it is beginning to be obvious that Japan's desperation might be, all things considered, no less than Germany's.

Some Differences of Opinion

A minor but significant thing has happened in a Senate sub-committee hearing on a Navy department plan to create a government-controlled monopoly of international communications service.

This plan is obviously of special interest to newspapers and the radio and to their millions of readers and listeners, because it entails the control of all news from abroad, as well as all news sent abroad. For this reason, newspapers and the radio have been particularly interested in a full hearing, with all views fully expressed.

But to date the most damaging testimony against the proposal has come not from newspaper and radio spokesmen, but spokesmen for government departments, who were called on to testify first. A spokesman for the War department, Maj. Gen. Harry C. Ingles, disagreed with the Navy plan on many points. The chairman of the Federal Communications commission, Paul Porter, called the plan unworkable. A deputy administrator of Civil Aeronautics administration said his agency was not in agreement. A spokesman for the State department, which has a special interest in international communications, revealed that his department was not prepared to support the Navy plan.

All of which has raised higher than ever the question of just who is supporting the plan. Whoever or whatever it is seems to have had serious trouble rounding up converts in Washington.

A Memorable Year

There will be no trouble remembering 1945. It began with the snow that lasted and lasted. It was the year the Germans gave up the watch on the Rhine. There were consequential floods in the Ohio valley. Mrs. Roosevelt got a mink coat. The Japanese learned that it is foolish for people who live in paper houses to start wars. Henry Wallace landed a job. Congress swallowed hard and said it would be all right if the national debt went to 300 billion dollars. Cigarettes were kept under the counter. Frank Sinatra was still 4-F. We had trouble with the coal supply. And no one got particularly excited about mowing grass before the end of March because to all intents and appearances 1945 was the year that skipped April as not being worth paying any attention to anyway.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, March 31

ALTHOUGH this may be a particularly lively and exciting day yet according to lunar transits, there should be much discretion, with wise consideration of all factors, even though clever and quick action will be decisive in grasping gainful openings. And while there may be benefits from secret agreements or private sources, yet vigilance in these is essential. Shun quarrels and deception, and maintain happy and responsible public contacts, observing rules and regulations. Defer changes of importance.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a very lively year, with much of an enterprising and strenuous state of affairs, in which swift, decisive and positive moves win out against certain tricky, intriguing or conniving associations.

Private gain or benefits may materialize if shrewd and alert moves avert duplicity or pitfalls. Public matters likewise demand straightforwardness and integrity, lest running counters to codes there be loss and penalties. Maintain harmony, honesty and obligations in social, home and affectional relations.

A child born on this day will be active, energetic and of a positive and forceful nature, but beset by suspicion, pitfalls and duplicity, although itself frank and honest.

Unconditional Surrender

By James Thrasher

"Pure eyewash" was the way Robert Murphy, our political adviser on German affairs at General Eisenhower's headquarters, described criticism of the Allies' unconditional surrender policy. And the enemy's attitude seems to justify Mr. Murphy's brief description.

As long as the Nazis rule Germany any compromise surrender would leave the core of Nazism intact. The poison would still be there, and with it the seeds of another war. Even in the event of a revolutionary overthrow of Hitler, the same policy would certainly be necessary. And if such a revolution were genuine, it probably would not be difficult of fulfillment.

Hitler and his circle have little hope and probably little desire for a compromise surrender. Their vain but persistent hope is for a breakdown of the alliance between the United States, Britain and Russia. In that, and not in conditional terms, would be their best hope of survival.

As Mr. Murphy pointed out, the Germans "are now witnessing the thing they understand best—superior force of arms." Anything less than the full harvest of the whirlwind they have sown might leave them unconvinced, and a remaining danger to world peace.

Regarding war rumors, keep your mouth closed and it won't be open to criticism.

Now they're saying the government released too much meat in 1944. One meat ball-up!

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Various Causes of Pain In Lower Back

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

PAIN in the lower part of the back can be produced by injury to the muscles, nerves, joints of the spine and even by emotional upsets.

One of the common causes is a condition known as protrusion of the nucleus of an intervertebral disc. These intervertebral discs are made up of cartilage between the bones of the spine. The pain in this condition usually passes into the buttock, thigh, leg and foot. The pain in the lower part of the back rarely causes as much trouble as the pain in the legs. Coughing or sneezing usually tends to make the pain worse.

As a rule, the condition develops after a fall, a jump or trying to lift some heavy object. An important sign of this condition is relief from the symptoms, which may occur from time to time, only to reappear. Just why this happens is not definitely known, but it is thought that the swelling of the tissues may become less at intervals and thus the pressure on the nerves is relieved.

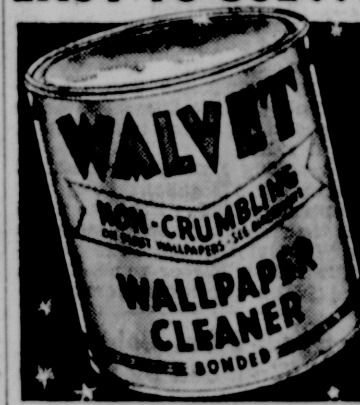

Another test for the conditions is made by having the patient lie on his back with his leg straight. This straightened leg can only be raised at an angle of 10 to 15 degrees when a protruded disc is present.

As a general rule, it is possible to make a diagnosis of protrusion of the nucleus of an intervertebral disc on the basis of the symptoms which occur. X-rays are helpful in some instances.

Operations Successful
Once a diagnosis is made, the treatment consists of an operation for correcting the disorder. In practically all instances, these operations can be carried out successfully.

Another cause for low back pain which passes into the legs is inflammation of the sciatic nerve or sciatic neuritis.

GREENFORD CHOIRS TO GIVE CANTATA

GREENFORD, March 30.—Under the direction of Mrs. Carl Hendricks, four church choirs, Catholic, Lutheran and Christian, will sing an Easter cantata, "The Story of Easter," by Ellen G. Lenz, at 8 p. m. Sunday in the Greenford high school auditorium. Miss Evelyn Greer is the accompanist.

This is the first musical of this kind ever to be attempted in Greenford community and the choirs have spent five weeks in rehearsal. The readers are Ralph Dressel, Carl Hendricks and Miss Ruth Roller. The program consists of the numbers: Song, "Take Up Thy Cross," H. H. Calvin and choir; song, "Jesus, I My Cross Have Taken," Ladies' choir; "Prophecy of Easter Week," Carl Hendricks; "Palm Sunday," Mr. Dressel and the choir; "All Glory, Laud and Honor," Ladies' choir; reading, "Conspiracy of the High Priests and Judas," Mr. Dressel; "The Last Supper," Mrs. Julian Howe; "Bread of the World, in Mercy Broken," Ladies' choir; reading, "Peter's Promise," Messrs. Hendricks and Dressel; "Gethsemane," choir, with Dorothy Beardsley and Mrs. Ralph Hendricks taking the duet part, and Harry Roller the solo part, and Miss Roller, reader.

"Go To Dark Gethsemane," Ladies' choir; "The Arrest," Mr. Dressel; "The Accusation," Robert Williamson; "The Verdict," Theron Roller; reading, "Peter's Denial," Miss Roller and Mr. Dressel; "In the Hour of Trial," Ladies' choir; "Judas' Repentance," Miss Roller and choir; "Pilate and the Multitude," Theron Roller, Miss Roller and choir; "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," Ladies' choir; "The Death," Jesus and quartet, Corinne Calvin, Harry Roller, William Dressel, Joseph Bush; "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," Ladies' choir; "The Resurrection," Eula Mae Hobbs and choir; "Worship of the Risen Christ," Shirley Hoffman and Ladies' choir; "The Easter Benediction," choir.

Rev. A. J. Cook will give the opening prayer and Rev. E. L. Greer the benediction.

The War Today

The job of beating Japan isn't going to be easy. The Mikado's government is marshaling Nippon's population of 100,000,000 for total war. And total war is what they mean. They say they're preparing to fight for 20 years, and longer if necessary.

Death for Mikado and country means a place for them among their gods. That's the type of folk we've got to beat. To do it we and our Allies must invade their islands from the sea. We may have to comb the vast reaches of China and Manchuria, and dig 2,000,000 Jap soldiers out of their fox-holes.

Thus V-E day seems a fitting moment for dedicating ourselves anew to the task of wiping out militarism. The Japanese dealt us the foulest blow one nation can deal another. They stabbed us in the back. Our honor is involved. The little white crosses on the Pacific isles, and the wounds of our fighting men, are to be avenged.

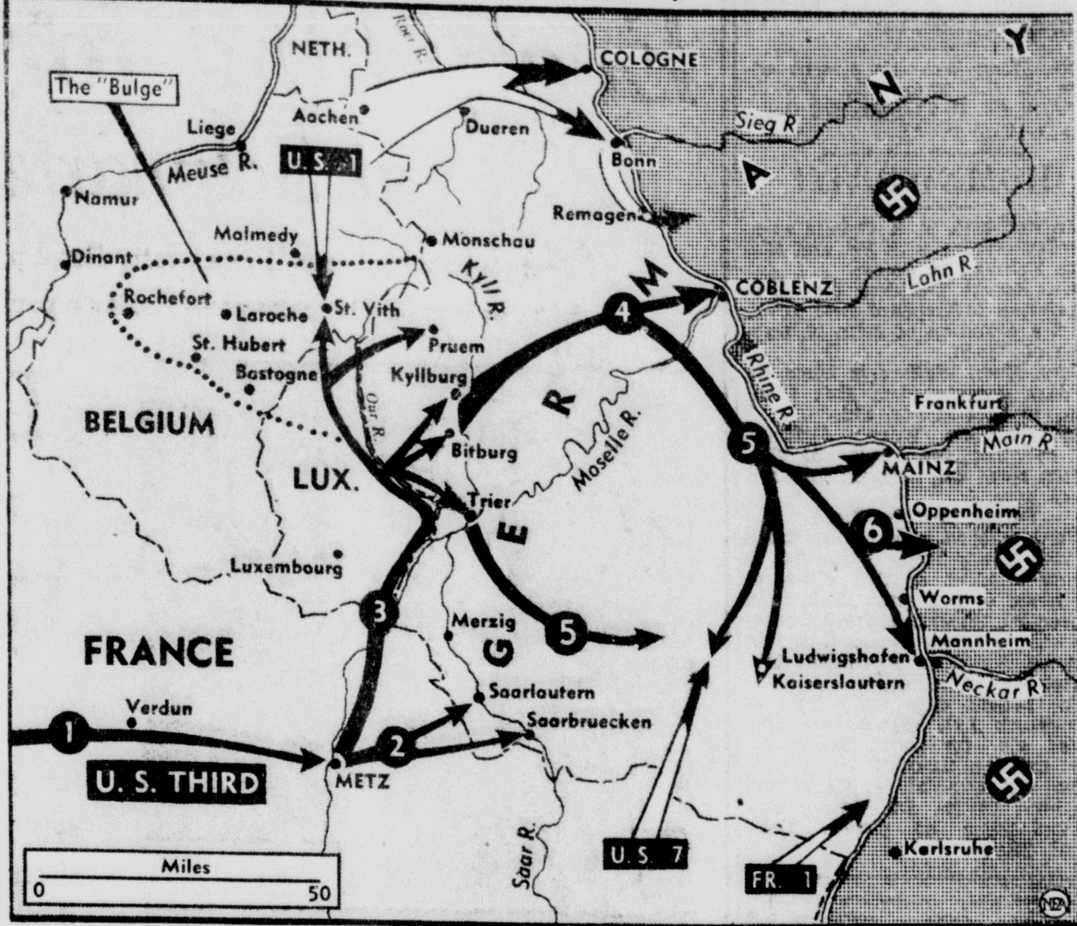

This column suggests that we make the European V-E day a double memorable one in American history by ceremonies of re-dedication, and let the unrestrained celebration come when Japan has been dealt with. Our boys will still be dying in the Orient when European V-E days comes.

Rampaging Third Army Chops Up Wehrmacht

Most spectacular of U. S. armies, the inspired Third, led by famed, gun-toting, tough, unpredictable Gen. George Patton Jr., has smashed its way across the Rhine after a sensational series of victories. The map traces the driving, twisting path of the Third. After the brilliant Normandy break-through, Patton's untiring tankmen slashed through France, past World War I battlefields (1), to Metz; assaulted the Saar area (2), but had to let up in their drive last December to streak north (3), where the Germans had made a sudden break-through in Belgium. Meeting with the U. S. First Army at St. Vith to end the Battle of the "Bulge," the Third regrouped for their surprise slash at Coblenz (4), and, without let-up, breached the Moselle River in two places to crumble last Nazi defenses west of the Rhine (5). Ten days after crossing the Moselle, Patton's infantrymen paddled across the Rhine (6) in rubber boats, justifying German claims that Patton and his rampaging army are the most feared, most unpredictable of Allied forces.

When Stark started to work at the bank March 7, 1905, the bank's capital was $100,000, surplus $110,000 and total resources $500,000. Today, he said, the capital is $150,000, surplus $500,000, undivided profits and reserves $300,000, with total resources of over $11,600,000.

Colley also recalled that the bank was chartered as the 43rd national bank in the country in 1863 and of those 43 banks only 19 are doing business today. The bank has an unbroken dividend record since its organization 82 years ago.

When Stark began his career the bank had only four employees; today it has 17. Five bank employees are in the armed services.

Henry John, now with the Army in France or Germany, entered the service in January, 1941; Kenneth Shears, with the Coast Guard at Alameda, Calif., entered in December, 1942; Charles Finney joined the Army in February, 1943, and is at Camp Lee, Va.; Ralph Smith, enlisting in the Navy in April, 1943, is serving in the Pacific; and Jack McKnight, who entered the Navy last January, is in training at Sampson, N. Y.

Taught School Five Years
Arthur Stark taught school for five years before entering the bank. He obtained his education in the North Georgetown school, at Damascus academy, and at the Northeast Ohio Normal school, Canfield. He then taught at Ash Ridge, south of Damascus, at Mill school near Lake Placid, at the Coffee and Camp schools in the Winona district, and then for two years at North Georgetown.

When he joined the bank March 7, 1905, Richard Pow was president and F. R. Pow cashier and there was one other employee, Miss Laura Cooper (Mrs. K. L. Webster). Stark took the place of Ed French, who had died a short time previously.

When Richard Pow died in 1907 F. R. Pow became president and W. F. Church came here from Pittsburgh to be cashier.

Stark has been a member of Salem lodge of Elks for 37 years and has been treasurer for 35 years. He

Pricing Policies of OPA Are Attacked By Appeals Court

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—OPA's pricing policies—under attack as a cause for current food shortages—reel today from a judicial blow and senatorial admonitions to get together with business.

Although upheld on one major contention, the agency was told by the Emergency Court of Appeals that its present ceilings, even with government subsidies, do not allow packers who produce only fresh beef to make an adequate profit or "indeed . . . to break even."

The court ruled that "processing" packer ceilings generally are fair and equitable. In contrast to non-processors, these packers turn out in addition to fresh beef such by-products as sausage, tallow and oil. They handle about 85 per cent of the beef supply.

Otherwise the food picture was in a weekend dim-out, with senate and house investigating committees resting for a resumption Monday.

The OPA was directed by the court to set aside some of its non-processor ceilings and provide an adjustment to assure a fair profit. The judgment is not effective for 30 days and meanwhile OPA may make the adjustment or appeal to the Supreme court.

The ruling was hailed as a "great victory" by Wilbur LaRoe, Jr., general counsel for the National Independent Meat Packers association.

In effect the court said a special subsidy of 80 cents a hundred pounds now paid to non-processors is inadequate to allow them to compete on an equal footing with processor firms.

This poses an additional headache for OPA, since a reduction of this subsidy to 30 cents is scheduled to go into effect April 1.

OBITUARY

DR. HOMER C. BALLARD
COLUMBIANA, March 30.—The body of Dr. Homer C. Ballard, 78, formerly of Columbiana, was brought here for burial this afternoon.

The prominent Lakewood and Cleveland physician died at his home there Tuesday. Born in Washington in 1867, he was graduated from the old Cleveland College of Physicians and Surgeons, now the medical school of Western Reserve university, in 1896. He married Harriet B. Esterly in 1900.

Long an associate hygiene professor at Western Reserve, she died in 1939. He enlisted in the medical corps in the last war, serving at Camp Sherman.

A former resident of Columbiana many years ago, he first practiced medicine here. He was a member of the Cleveland Medical association and the Academy of Medical Associations of America.

His only son, Capt. Robert Ballard, who has been with the medical corps in France and Belgium for the last 18 months, was at his father's bedside.

MERRYMAN INFANT
KENSINGTON, March 30.—Funeral service was held at the Maple funeral home this afternoon for Lois Ariene Merryman, three-day old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Merryman of Kensington, who died at the Mercy hospital in Canton Wednesday night.

The baby was born at the home Sunday evening.

Surviving besides the parents, are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merryman of Kensington and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pollard of Damascus; a brother, Carl, and sister, Gladys.

Burial was in the Kensington cemetery.

• SO THEY SAY

Only because of his material advantage has the enemy inflicted defeat on us.
—Goebbels.

The conference can only lay the foundations and design the machinery for future cooperation between nations.

—Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard College, San Francisco Conference delegate.

Take Jan. 16, for instance. In a fight we shot down 161 German fighters; six of our fighters failed to return. That's about the normal loss due to engines.

—Maj.-Gen. Orvil A. Anderson, 8th AAF Deputy Commander.

The ultimate consequence of unlimited government spending and risk-taking is likely to be the government take-over of enterprise.

—Arthur A. Ballantine, former Treasury Undersecretary.

Victory won't terminate our obligations. It will mean, rather, that having disposed of the pretenders who tried to impose their own quack remedies, we will have earned anew the right and the obligation to discover and apply solutions better adapted to human needs.

—Dr. Everett Case, president College U.

During normal years, more shotgun shells are fired at rabbits than at any other species of North American game.

College and Library Get Part of Clarke's Estate

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 30—A $100,000 trust fund for the Reuben McMillan Free Library of Youngstown and a bequest to Adelbert college of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, which probably will exceed $1,000,000 were provided in the will of former Justice John H. Clarke, filed here today.

Justice Clarke, former Youngstown and Cleveland resident, died here a week ago.

The bequest to the Youngstown library is to be held in trust and the income devoted to buying books. Trustees of Adelbert College are given full discretion in using the bequest.

Flight Officer Hanahan of Lisbon
has been listed as missing by the War department.

Parents of the youth were notified today that their son was missing, although they had received a letter from him just a few days ago which stated that he expected to go on a flying mission over China.

Flight Officer Hanahan entered the service in January, 1943. He has been overseas four months. He is a graduate of Lisbon High school and was employed at Sandusky
prior to his induction.

Staff Sergt. Plegge, wounded four times—twice in Italy and twice in France—and later listed as missing
in action, is now a prisoner of war in the M. Stammlager, XIII C camp his family learned in a letter from him yesterday.

Sergt. Plegge, who has won the Purple Heart medal and Oak Leaf
clusters and the Silver Star, wrote that he was all right but "would surely like to have a few smokes."
He said he was glad to be safe but that he wished he were home.

A brother, Joseph, was recently reported killed in action. His brother inquired about the other's well being in the letter, not knowing as yet that he had been killed.

Staff Sergt. Plegge's address is 19923, M. Stammlager, XIII C
Prisoner of War, Germany.

Second Lieut. Ahlborn of Lisbon is reported wounded in action somewhere in the European area. He had been overseas six weeks.
He was a seventh and eighth grade school teacher before entering service two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Snow of Washing-
tonville were notified yesterday that their son, Pvt. Robert Snow, was on his way back to this country after spending four months in a German prison camp.

Details of his release were not given, but the family believes he was among those released within the past few weeks when Allied forces
made their way deeper into German territory.

Mrs. Goldie Eckert of Columbiana
received a card from her son, Sergt.
Glenn Eckert stating that he is a prisoner in Germany. This is the first word the family has had since they received a telegram from the War department stating that he was missing in Germany, Dec. 21.
Sergt. Eckert was drafted March 11, 1943, and received his training at Fort Jackson, Miss. He went overseas in October, 1944. He was with the 106th Infantry.

Hear Hospital Head

Hospital problems in their relation to public service were discussed by James W. Stephan of Canton, superintendent of Aultman hospital, at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon at the Memorial building. Albert Hanna was program chairman.

Lee S. Lanpher of Cleveland, formerly of Salem, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to come.
Lanpher is president of the Ohio Hospital association.

American Legion Plans

initiation team for the initiation of World War II veterans at the meeting of the county council Friday, April 13, in Wellsville.

Annual Past Commanders night will be held by the Salem post
Monday evening, April 16.

Aids School Program

Dr. Wilda M. Rosebrook, Ohio
State university physiological consultant, spent the week in Salem public schools assisting in the placement of students so that they may receive the greatest benefit from their educational program. She also assisted in attempts to improve the reading program among grade school students.

Flight Officer Hanahan of Lisbon
has been listed as missing by the War department.

Parents of the youth were notified today that their son was missing, although they had received a letter from him just a few days
ago which stated that he expected to go on a flying mission over China.

Flight Officer Hanahan entered the service in January, 1943. He has been overseas four months. He is a graduate of Lisbon High school
and was employed at Sandusky
prior to his induction.

Staff Sergt. Plegge, wounded four times—twice in Italy and twice in France—and later listed as missing
in action, is now a prisoner of war
in the M. Stammlager, XIII C camp
his family learned in a letter from him yesterday.

Sergt. Plegge, who has won the Purple Heart medal and Oak Leaf
clusters and the Silver Star, wrote that he was all right but "would surely like to have a few smokes."

He said he was glad to be safe but
that he wished he were home.

A brother, Joseph, was recently reported killed in action in France.
His brother inquired about the other's well being in the letter, not knowing as yet that he had been killed.

Staff Sergt. Plegge's address is 19923, M. Stammlager, XIII C
Prisoner of War, Germany.

Second Lieut. Ahlborn of Lisbon is reported wounded in action somewhere in the European area. He has been overseas six weeks.

He was a seventh and eighth grade school teacher before entering
service two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Snow of Washing-
tonville were notified yesterday that their son, Pfc. Robert Snow, was on his way back to this country after spending four months in a German prison camp.

Details of his release were not given, but the family believes he was among those released within the past few weeks when Allied forces
made their way deeper into German territory.

Mrs. Goldie Eckert of Columbiana
received a card from her son, Sergt.
Glenn Eckert stating that he is a prisoner in Germany. This is the first word the family has had since
they received a telegram from the War department stating that he was missing in Germany, Dec. 21.

Sergt. Eckert was drafted March 11, 1943, and received his training
at Fort Jackson, Miss. He went overseas in October, 1944. He was with the 106th Infantry.

Death's BRIGHT DIAMONDS

XXI
After the movies Charley had taken Brenda home and the tail lights of the station wagon with Phineas Hudson at the wheel had already winked out of sight on the Sandy Point road.
Pat and I were just going through the door of the Wagon Wheel when a taxi drove up. I looked curiously, then looked again. It was a Boston taxi. Boston cabs were rare in Minot and they meant either fun or trouble. After a glance at the taxi's occupant, I decided that this one didn't mean fun. He carried a brief case with undistinguished gold initials on the side.
He came briskly through the door and it was only by hurrying that I beat him to the desk. While I registered Pat and myself, he stood there, a smallish round man, obviously important and impatient. I passed him the pen; he stared at me with big eyes through incredibly thick lenses and smiled without warmth.

"Thank you," he said in an accent which I could not identify.
But I saw that his hair needed cutting, and his overcoat was much too long. I saw also that he preferred them that way, for his clothes were patently expensive. I was conscious of watching a white, fat hands writing floridly in the register, when suddenly it stopped. He stared up at me, his thick lips pursed reflectively, and I moved off. The last I saw of him was his yellow spats twinkling beneath his too-long coat as he went to the elevator. I was amused and faintly disturbed when he availed himself of another look at me.

There was no thought of going to bed. We sat on the big leather divan in front of the fireplace and talked. Charley joined us at 11:30, quipped aimlessly for awhile, then sensing our mood, relapsed into a gloomy silence. By 12 o'clock the room was cold. I got up, turned over the log, and strolled over to the desk to glance at the register. I found the name right under my own.

PETER A. XAVIER—
NEW YORK CITY
The little round man had written. I had got halfway back to the divan when it hit me. Peter A. Xavier! And before I got all the way back, the Minot fire horn let go. Its banshee wail chilled my blood. Pat started up and Charley turned curiously.
"Well," I said and went to the window, the name Peter A. Xavier still ringing in my brain. Nonchalantly, I looked out. Suddenly I stiffened. Charley was peering over my shoulder.
"Nick—" he began, but I cut him off.

"After all, we've reserved rooms. Why not use them?"
"Not I," said Pat. "See any signs of the fire?"
She went to the window, and there, plainly visible about four miles to the east was an angry red glow from as rousing a fire as I ever hope to see. Pat turned, her face white.
"That could be The Ledges," she said.

We tailed the last piece of apparatus up to the hose lines and pulled up. The last half mile of the drive had killed our last hope that it might be some other building than The Ledges. We could see the whole south wing alive with flame. Pat just sat, stunned. Charley and I got out and drifted around, seeking some sign of Phineas Hudson. I ran into Cass Hapes. He stared at me oddly.

"Anybody in there?" he asked. "I don't think so," I said. "We were all at the movies in Minot." He looked at his watch.
"What time did you get out?"
"The usual time."
Hapes still held his watch, rubbing his thumb thoughtfully over the crystal.
"A little late getting back, aren't you?"
"I suppose you'd be happier if we'd all been in there asleep," I said tartly.
"I'd have been a little more certain you didn't know it was coming," answered Hapes.

For a while we sat and watched the fire reduce a stately mansion to a pile of rubble. Then we took Pat back to The Wagon Wheel where Brenda met us.
"I heard the siren," she said, "and they told me it was The Ledges. I'm taking Pat home with me."
"I'll love you for it," I said.
"This is too much," she smiled wanly. "The most I had hoped for was that you wouldn't hate me. Where is Mr. Hudson?"
She uttered the question under her breath. I shrugged and shook my head. She gave me a veiled look and turned away. Pat and Brenda gone, Charley and I started back for Sandy Point. And Peter A. Xavier got back into my consciousness.

"Charley," I said, "a Peter A. Xavier registered at The Wagon Wheel tonight."
"What an odd name," Charley said.
"He arrived in a Boston cab, registered from New York City, and he was as unmoral-looking an assassin as I've ever seen."
"Probably an official of the S. P. C. A. with a record for charity as long as your arm."
"My arms are quite short," I replied. "He carried a brief case. I didn't see, but I bet his initials were on it."
"What are you getting at?"
"Initials," I said. "Peter A. Xavier."
"P. A. X." answered Charley. "So what?"
Then he straightened slowly and repeated the letters deliberately.
"P. A. X. Those are the letters that were on that setting Calavestri gave you."
"Sure," I said. "Peace. You remember?"

Board Chairman Thomas E. Wilson of Wilson & Co., Chicago, "big four" meat packer spokesman, tells the Senate Food Investigation Committee that government will have to "take over" the meat industry if the war lasts three or four years more and OPA regulations are not changed.

Approximately 9,000,000 persons in the United States are now more than 65 years old.

WOULD YOU SIT BACK AND WATCH YOUR HOME BURN DOWN?

You may be doing just that, figuratively speaking! According to science, if you allow putrefaction to collect and remain in the system, it causes Sour Stomach, gas and acid, and the many pains that go with them. Get rid of these poisons, and in many cases the backaches and headaches they cause will also disappear.

According to letters and statements of countless BARDEX users in this vicinity, these toxins soon disappeared, and pleasant restful sleep and greater pep resulted. Use according to directions.

BARDEX Herb-Medicine is for sale at your favorite druggists, or at Floding & Reynard's Drug Store.

Oklahoma Aggies Capture National Cage Title At Garden

BANKIBA TOPS AFTER PATIENT 18-YEAR WAIT

Coach of Aggies Has Been Mighty Near Top Before, But Missed

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, March 30.—After 18 years a team coached by 41-year-old Bank Iba has reached the pinnacle in basketball.

Iba's Oklahoma Aggies capped their NCAA championship with a 52-44 victory over DePaul, National Invitation tournament winners, in a Red Cross game at Madison Square Garden last night.

As Mentor at Classen High school of Oklahoma City, Iba sent his boys to the finals of the National championship in 1929 only to lose to Athens, Tex. One of his five at Maryville college in Missouri went to the Wichita Henrys.

Last night's triumph was achieved before 18,158 fans, who contributed more than $5,000 to the Red Cross.

Mikan Fouls Out
The game was expected to be a battle of basketball's top big men—the Aggies' seven-foot Bob Kurland and DePaul's six-foot nine-inch George Mikan. But Mikan fouled out after 14 minutes of play and Iba assigned Kurland to almost a ball-retrieving and play-making job in the last half.

The Oklahoma redhead took only two shots in the last half, making one of them. He added two free throws to boost his total to 14. Mikan counted nine times.

DePaul held a 21-16 point lead when Mikan departed and managed to hold its five-point margin through the remainder of the period, leaving the floor with a 25-21 advantage. But in the second half, Cecil Hankins showed the way as the Aggies built up a 30-26 lead in the first five minutes. Hankins led the scorers with 20 points.

The Oklahoma held command by a narrow margin through the remainder of the game.

Indians To Face Soldier Outfit In Contest Today

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 30.—The Cleveland Indians travel to Chicago, Ill., today to meet the Chanute field nine in the first of three exhibition games.

Eighteen players, including coaches are scheduled to make the trip, by Army bus. The game will be played on the University of Illinois field with Chanute personnel as spectators.

The Indians will tackle the University of Illinois team on the same field Saturday and Sunday will play the semi-pro Lafayette Red Sox on their training camp grounds.

Pitchers slated to work at Champaign include Jim Bagby, Ed Die-man, Hal Klein, Allie Reynolds, Steve Gromek and Bill Bonness.

Associated Press Picks All-Star Team After Garden Tourney

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 30.—The Oklahoma Aggies, holders of the National mythical basketball championship, and New York university each landed two players today on an All-Star team of 10 men selected after the tournament play in Madison Square Garden.

After consulting many leading coaches, the Associated Press placed the Aggies seven-foot Bob Kurland on the first team and Cecil Hankins on the forward on the second five. New York university won one of the guard positions on the first team with Frank Mangiapane and one of the forward spots on the second with Al Grenet.

Kurland was placed at guard, leaving the center spot open for George Mikan of De Paul. Placed at forwards were Rhode Island state's high-scoring Ernie Calverley and Bowling Green's fine play-maker—Wynold Gray.

The second team also is made up of Arnold Risen of Ohio State, Hy Gotkin of St. John's and Wilbur Schu of Kentucky.

Oklahoma Aggies Capture National Cage Title At Garden

BANK IBA TOPS AFTER PATIENT 18-YEAR WAIT

Coach of Aggies Has Been Mighty Near Top Before, But Missed

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, March 30.—After 18 years a team coached by 41-year-old Bank Iba has reached the pinnacle in basketball.

Iba's Oklahoma Aggies capped their NCAA championship with a 52-44 victory over DePaul, winners in a Red Cross game at Madison Square Garden last night.

As Mentor at Classen High school of Oklahoma City Iba sent his boys to the finals of the National championship in 1929 only to lose to Athens, Tex. One of his five at Maryville college in Missouri went to the Wichita Hawks.

Last night's triumph was achieved before 18,158 fans, who contributed more than $5,000 to the Red Cross.

Mikan Fouls Out
The game was expected to be a battle of basketball's top big men—the Aggies' seven-foot Bob Kurland and DePaul's six-foot nine-inch George Mikan. But Mikan fouled out after 14 minutes of play and Iba assigned Kurland to almost a ball-retrieving and play-making job in the last half.

The Oklahoma redhead took only two shots in the last half, making one of them. He added two free throws to boost his total to 14. Mikan counted nine times.

DePaul held a 21-16 point lead when Mikan departed and managed to hold its five-point margin through the remainder of the period, leaving the floor with a 25-21 advantage. But in the second half, Cecil Hankins showed the way as the Aggies built up a 30-26 lead in the first five minutes. Hankins led the scorers with 20 points.

The Oklahoma men held command by a narrow margin through the remainder of the game.

Associated Press Picks All-Star Team After Garden Tourney

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 30.—The Oklahoma Aggies, holders of the National mythical basketball championship, each landed two players today on an All-Star team of 10 men selected after the tournament play in Madison Square Garden.

After consulting many leading coaches, the Associated Press placed the Aggies seven-foot Bob Kurland on the first team and Cecil Hankins at forward on the second five. New York university won one of the guard positions on the first team with Frank Mangapane and one of the forward spots on the second with Al Grenet.

Kurland was placed at guard, leaving the center spot open for George Mikan of De Paul. Placed at forwards were Rhode Island state's high-scoring Ernie Calverley and Bowling Green's fine play-maker—Wynold Gray.

The second team also is made up of Arnold Risen of Ohio State, Hy Gotkin of St. John's and Wilbur Schu of Kentucky.

Oklahoma Aggies Capture National Cage Title At Garden

BANK IBA TOPS AFTER PATIENT 18-YEAR WAIT

Coach of Aggies Has Been Mighty Near Top Before, But Missed

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, March 30.—After 18 years a team coached by 41-year-old Bank Iba has reached the pinnacle in basketball.

Iba's Oklahoma Aggies capped their NCAA championship with a 52-44 victory over DePaul, National Invitation tournament winners, in a Red Cross game at Madison Square Garden last night.

As Mentor at Classen High school of Oklahoma City, Iba sent his boys to the finals of the National championship in 1929 only to lose to Athens, Tex. One of his five at Maryville college in Missouri went to the Wichita Henrys.

Last night's triumph was achieved before 18,158 fans, who contributed more than $5,000 to the Red Cross.

Mikan Fouls Out
The game was expected to be a battle of basketball's top big men—the Aggies' seven-foot Bob Kurland and DePaul's six-foot nine-inch George Mikan. But Mikan fouled out after 14 minutes of play and Iba assigned Kurland to almost a ball-retrieving and play-making job in the last half.

The Oklahoma head coach took only two shots in the last half, making one of them. He added two free throws to boost his total to 14. Mikan counted nine times.

DePaul held a 21-16 point lead when Mikan departed and managed to hold its five-point margin through the remainder of the period, leaving the floor with a 25-21 advantage. But in the second half, Cecil Hankins showed the way as the Aggies built up a 30-26 lead in the first five minutes. Hankins led the scorers with 20 points.

The Oklahoma head coach by a narrow margin through the remainder of the game.

Indians To Face Soldier Outfit In Contest Today

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 30.—The Cleveland Indians travel to Champaign, Ill., today to meet the Chantane field nine in the first of three exhibition games.

Eighteen players, including coaches are scheduled to make the trip, by Army bus. The game will be played on the University of Illinois field with Chantane personnel as spectators.

The Indians will tackle the University of Illinois team on the same field Saturday and Sunday will play the semi-pro Lafayette Red Sox on their training camp grounds.

Pitchers slated to work at Champaign include Jim Bagby, Ed Dilleman, Hal Klein, Alie Reynolds, Steve Gromek and Bill Bonness.

Dream Team! Associated Press Picks All-Star Team After Garden Tourney

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 30.—The Oklahoma Aggies, holders of the National mythical basketball championship, and New York university each landed two players today on an All-Star team of 10 men selected after the tournament play in Madison Square Garden.

After consulting many leading coaches, the Associated Press placed the Aggies seven-foot Bob Kurland on the first team and Cecil Hankins at forward on the second five. New York university won one of the guard positions on the first team with Frank Mangapane and one of the forward spots on the second with Al Grenet.

Kurland was placed at guard, leaving the center spot open for George Mikan of De Paul. Placed at forwards were Rhode Island state's high-scoring Ernie Calverley and Bowling Green's fine play-maker—Wynold Gray.

The second team also is made up of Arnold Risen of Ohio State, Hy Gotkin of St. John's and Wilbur Schu of Kentucky.

REX CECIL MIGHT DO RED SOX GOOD

After Disappointing Year Last Season, Hurler Begins Strong

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 30.—Rex Cecil who proved a disappointment after costing the Boston Red Sox $25,000 last year might yet pay dividends.

The former San Diego pitching sensation, who was expected to take the place of Tex Hughson but could win only four out of nine starts, hurled brilliantly yesterday as the Red Sox downed the New York Yankees 12-6. Cecil held the Yankees to two hits in five scoreless frames and struck out five batters.

Manager Joe Cronin nominated Joe Word, Jr., and Otis Clark to hurl against the Yankees today. Shortstop Skeeter Newsome joined the Sox squad.

Other Camp Briefs
Cards—Shortstop Marty Marion arrived, talked salary terms with Owner Sam Breadon, no agreement reached. George Dockins, formerly with American Association, arrived to become 10th Card pitcher on hand. Still absent—Ted Wilks, Harry Breechen, and Al Jurisch.

Browns—Pitcher Jack Kramer reported. Catcher Joe Schultz and Pitcher Sam Zoldak joined work-outs. Al La Macchia pitched four runless innings for Browns, who tied with Toledo, 5-5.

Braves—Plenty of skill practice for team promised by Manager Bob Coleman, after checking defensive lapses.

Jimmy Likes Pitchers
White Sox—Manager Jimmy Dykes likes pitching staff but worried over holdouts, Johnny Humphries and Orval Grove. Third Baseman Grey Clark, First Baseman Joe Orenco unheard from. Outfielder Howard Roberts reported. Rain chased squad under grandstand for brief workout. Intersquad game Sunday.

Club Signed Holdout
Phillies—Club signed holdout Pitcher Al Gorbauer. Outfielder Coaker Triplett expected to sign today.

Oklahoma Aggies Capture National Cage Title At Garden

BANK IBA TOPS AFTER PATIENT 18-YEAR WAIT

Coach of Aggies Has Been Mighty Near Top Before, But Missed

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, March 30.—After 18 years a team coached by 41-year-old Bank Iba has reached the pinnacle in basketball.

Iba's Oklahoma Aggies capped their NCAA championship with a 52-44 victory over DePaul, National Invitation tournament winners, in a Red Cross game at Madison Square Garden last night.

As Mentor at Classen High school of Oklahoma City, Iba sent his boys to the finals of the National championship in 1929 only to lose to Athens, Tex. One of his wives at Maryville college in Missouri went to the Wichita Henrys.

Last night's triumph was achieved before 18,158 fans, who contributed more than $5,000 to the Red Cross.

Mikan Fouls Out
The game was expected to be a battle of basketball's top big men—the Aggies' seven-foot Bob Kurland and DePaul's six-foot nine-inch George Mikan. But Mikan fouled out after 14 minutes of play and Iba assigned Kurland to almost a ball-retrieving and play-making job in the last half.

The Oklahoma redhead took only two shots in the last half, making one of them. He added two free throws to boost his total to 14. Mikan counted nine times.

DePaul held a 21-16 point lead when Mikan departed and managed to hold its five-point margin through the remainder of the period, leaving the floor with a 25-21 advantage. But in the second half, Cecil Hankins showed the way as the Aggies built up a 30-26 lead in the first five minutes. Hankins led the scorers with 20 points.

The Oklahoma held command by a narrow margin through the remainder of the game.

Indians To Face Soldier Outfit In Contest Today

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 30.—The Cleveland Indians travel to Champaign, Ill., today to meet the Chantaine field nine in the first of three exhibition games.

Eighteen players, including coaches are scheduled to make the trip, by Army bus. The game will be played on the University of Illinois field with Chantaine personnel as spectators.

The Indians will tackle the University of Illinois team on the same field Saturday and Sunday will play the semi-pro Lafayette Red Sox on their training camp grounds.

Pitchers slated to work at Champaign include Jim Bagby, Ed Dilleman, Hal Kleins, Allie Reynolds, Steve Gromek and Bill Bonness.

Associated Press Picks All-Star Team After Garden Tourney

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 30.—The Oklahoma Aggies, holders of the National mythical basketball championship, and New York university each landed two players today on an All-Star team of 10 men selected after the tournament play in Madison Square Garden.

After consulting many leading coaches, the Associated Press picked the Aggies seven-foot Bob Kurland as the first team and Cecil Hankins at forward on the second five. New York university won one of the guard positions on the first team with Frank Mangiapane and one of the forward spots on the second with Al Grenet.

Kurland was placed at guard, leaving the center spot open for George Mikan of De Paul. Placed at forwards were Rhode Island state's high-scoring Ernie Calverley and Bowling Green's fine play-maker—Wynndol Gray.

The second team also is made up of Arnold Risen of Ohio State, Hy Gotkin of St. John's and Wilbur Schu of Kentucky.

WITH THE UNUSUAL
BELLO Abrasivstrip
 BLADE SHARPENER

Since 1928, the most unusual, double edge blade sharpener, a hollow grinding wheel, a new blade, HE-MAN'S ABRASIVSTRIP. Nothing erases about it due to the War, still all metal, with
 NEW Overseas, non-reflecting finish
 AVAILABLE NOW. As seen in Colliers, Life,
 THIS WEEK, et al.

NOW ONLY $4.95
 One Model
 One Price

Saves half your shaving time because every shave is keen and using Bello is quicker than sharpening a new blade. Park your blade in Bello away from hair or danger to family.
 Saves its cost in blades in a few months.
 Saves blade torture and face razor burn.

HOW TO SHAVE with BELLO, of course. Gives 50 plus, CONSTANT COMFORT, fast, clean, shaves per double-edge blade. HE-MAN'S GIFT, SERVICEMAN'S GODSEND. Col. J.
 Joy, Texas, says: "3 blades 15 years. One 1917 paint scraper blade gave perfect shaves after 10 years." (Name on request).
 "Blades as good as new. A handy useful companion. The farther one goes from home, the more Bello is needed." Another Colonel:
 "The only sharpener the least bit efficient."
